See, you're the greatest kid. Don't forget our algebra class. Good luck in future years.
Love Jan

I am in this world
Alone but for others
Isolated but for touch
And sight and sound.

In contact with others
I learn and teach
I grow and help grow
I hurt and heal.

Others, older, teach and learn,
Help grow and grow,
Weep with my sorrows
Leap with my joys.

This is a chronicle
A record, dedicated
To the remembrance
Of growing.

As students approach maturity they find that part of that maturity is standing up for what they believe in.

As this current tide of feeling reached Wayne Hills, the administration found itself conceding an ancient bone of contention in revising the dress code under student demand, while still others took part in joining their voices in dissent against war.

Through all of Wayne Hills' short history our football campaigns had to be carried out on foreign fields. Finally, after much dreaming and even more procrastinating by the town council, Wayne Hills students one day discovered a new Babylon arising out of the school grounds.

The infant structure, like a steel cocoon, was the promise of seeing the word "home" on a sports calendar and knowing it didn't mean "at Wayne Valley."

Sparked by the thought that their days as a wandering orphan team were over, this year's football team improved their record over last year as a four-year-old high school heard the new sound of home team cheering.

We wish to thank the following people without whose help this yearbook would have never existed

Mr. William Botbyl of Ickes Annuals for his saint-like patience with two procrastinating editors.

Lorstan-Thomas Studios for their fine service

All the members of the custodial staff for their countless favors and for tolerating our break-ins and late night hours, and to Mike Ricciardi for not holding a grudge.

Mrs. Laura Allegri, our advisor, who so graciously and dutifully accepted this hellish responsibility

Gary Kaetzel for blessing us with his photographic skill and his undying loyalty

The entire faculty for tolerating our endless interruptions and our seemingly petty annoyances; but wasn't it worth it, gang?

Mr. Joseph Graceffo for the use of the Graphic Arts dark room during many of our dire emergencies

Mr. Arthur Smith for allowing us to have a Heritage Homeroom and for allowing our meetings during school

All those who were involved with our car wash, especially to Harold Laauwe for donating his vacuum cleaner, to Stern's department store for the use of electrical outlets, and Rickel's department store for the use of their water outlets.

Those individuals who wanted two copies of Heritage so much that they felt they had to take our only two office copies

Mrs. Vera Harzold for providing room and board to the Heritage tribe, and to Mrs. Anita Maizel for providing transportation to all; and to both for good-naturedly enduring the loneliness without their daughters this year.

All those who supported us financially and spiritually,

We thank thee
